Crossings: ULAB Journal of English Studies
Department of English and Humanities
University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh
Volume 1, Number 1, Fall 2008
Crossings: ULAB Journal of English Studies
Volume 1, Number 1, Fall 2008

A Note for Contributors

Crossings: ULAB Journal of English Studies is an annual peer-reviewed journal of scholarly articles and book reviews. Crossings is open to accept articles from teachers working at private and public universities of Bangladesh. But anybody from any profession or no-profession at all can send submissions for consideration for publication. Crossings also welcomes contributions from scholars abroad.

Thematically, the articles should be on English Literature and Language and how they relate to human behaviour and society and to the more-than-the-human world. Though articles on other literatures and languages are also welcome, they must be written in English. Moreover, Crossings wants to welcome articles that explore ecological issues in literature.

All articles submitted should be written in English. Quotes and extracts in other languages may be given with parallel English translation. Each article is submitted to at least one reader on a panel of reviewers. Editing, for the sake of clarity and space, is done, but on a very minor scale. The articles and book reviews submitted to Crossings shouldn’t have been published or be under consideration for publication, elsewhere. Only articles/reviews recommended by the reviewer will be accepted for publication.

All submissions may be done online, while hard copies with CD may be submitted too. All articles should follow the in-text documentation method, that is, the MLA Style Sheet. The upper limit for an article is 4500 words and lower is 2000 words, though in case of an exceptionally well-written paper, the word count will be relaxed.

Crossings will be published in October every year, but submissions will be accepted any time of the year.

The address to send the articles on surface mail is:
Editor, Crossings: ULAB Journal of English Studies
Department of English and Humanities
University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh
House – 56, Road – 4/A, Dhanmondi R/A
Dhaka – 1209, Bangladesh
Tel: 880-2-9661255, 9661301, 9665686, 967519, Fax: 9670931, Mob: 01711726878
E-mail: mohit_13_1952@yahoo.com; mohit_ul_alam@hotmail.com
Web: www.ulab.edu.bd
Contents

Syed Manzoorul Islam
Introduction
The Problems of English Studies in Bangladesh

Kaiser Haq
Some Thoughts on Tagore as a Thinker

Fakrul Alam
Sexuality and the Fiction of R. K. Narayan

Mohit Ul Alam
The Daughters in Shakespeare’s Plays

K. Anis Ahmed
Nation-Making at Barney Kiernan's

Arran Stibbe
Haiku and Beyond: Language, Ecology, and Reconnection with the Natural World

M. Maniruzzaman
R.K. Narayan’s Attitude Towards the ENGLISH Language: a Postcolonial Posture, a Utilitarian Gesture

M. Mamunur Rahman
The Scarlet Letter and New England’s Witchcraft Beliefs

Zareen Choudhury
Language Problems in Singapore and Hong Kong

Mahmuda Nasrin
The Use of Land in Momaday’s House Made of Dawn and Silko’s Ceremony

Shamsad Mortuza
Imperialism and English Education Policies in the Sub-Continent

Zakia Ahmad
Institutional Elitism: Critical Discourse Analysis of Private Educational Institutions

Muhammed Shahriar Haque
The Folding Screen of Kitsch

Shahnewaz Kabir
Correcting ESL Learners’ Writing

Zafor Mohammad Mahmud
Meursault: an Outsider or an Insider?

Nasrin Islam
Donne’s Imagery: Creating Riddles

Musarrat Shameem
Formatting in Forster’s A Passage to India

Abdullah Al Mamun
The Rise of An Individual: Ibsen’s A Doll’s House Reinterpreted

Tahmina Zaman
Book Review

Mohit Ul Alam